During my internship at the firm where I initially began as a trainee, I was entrusted with responsibilities related to the monitoring and sustainability of construction site projects, in alignment with my individual competencies. Towards the conclusion of my internship, I assumed an active role as an interior architect. I contributed to the overall workflow by evaluating the feasibility of project details and ensuring their alignment with established design standards. Through effective coordination with on-site teams and subcontractors, I facilitated the timely execution of tasks. Additionally, I played a key role in integrating occupational health and safety measures, as well as environmental sustainability principles, into site practices. I was also actively involved in the revision of project documentation and technical drawings, thereby contributing to the development of comprehensive and accurate records.

During my third-year university internship, I assumed responsibility for monitoring the progress of ongoing construction site projects at the firm. I was actively involved in overseeing and reporting the compliance of on-site activities with project plans, particularly in the Beytepe Park Jovan Residence and Kocatepe Coffee House projects. Within the scope of a villa project, I contributed to the client presentation process by preparing 3D models and visual materials.

Additionally:

- Monitored the overall progress of construction projects, ensuring alignment with design objectives and timelines.
- Maintained direct communication with clients and project supervisors to facilitate accurate implementation on site.
- Collaborated with the design team to support problem-solving processes in response to technical challenges.
- Closely followed the integration of sustainable materials and environmental standards into construction practices.

I continued my internship in the Spring of 2025 at the same company where I had previously worked during the summer term as a site project assistant, due to academic scheduling. Throughout this extended period, I was actively involved in all phases of both villa and residential complex projects—from foundation excavation to fine finishing works. Drawing on my interior architecture background, I ensured the accurate, complete, and design-compliant implementation of project details on site. I interpreted architectural drawings to guide proper on-site execution in accordance with design standards. Additionally, I supported interior coordination by collaborating closely with structural, mechanical, and electrical teams throughout the construction process.
