

Meshary Meshal M Alotibi

+966569998962

Malotaibi@iau.edu.sa

Personal Statement

I hold a bachelor's degree in medical imaging from Saudi Arabia and a master's degree from the United Kingdom in the same field. I have been working as a lecturer at Immam Abdulrahman Bin Faisal University for over 10 years, focusing on sonography and medical ultrasound. Eager to continue my academic journey, I am seeking opportunities to pursue a PhD in medical ultrasound.

Work Experience

Demonstrator & Lecturer

Immam Abdulrahman Bin Faisal University, Saudi Arabia
2014 – 2024.

- Conducted lectures on medical ultrasound to undergraduate students.
- Performed sonographic examinations at the university hospital.
- Mentored students on practical techniques and academic research.
- Participated in curriculum development and academic committees.
- Conducted workshops and training for healthcare professionals.

Education

King Khalid University, Saudi Arabia

(2013)

BSc in Diagnostic Radiology:

- Merit

University of Leeds, United Kingdom

(2015 – 2017)

MSc in Medical Imaging:

- Merit

Achievements

Intern Student at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Dhahran City, KSA

(2012 – 2013).

Sonographer at King Fahad University Hospital, Ultrasound Dept., Al khobar City, KSA

(2013–2014)- (2017-2018).

Student representative at Leeds University
(2014 - 2015)

Teaching Assistant and a sonographer in medical ultrasound
at Immam Abdulrahman Bin Faisal, Dammam, KSA.
(2013 - 2017)

Current lecturer and sonographer in medical ultrasound Department
at Immam Abdulrahman Bin Faisal, Dammam, KSA
(Since 2018).

Skills

- Fluent in English (IELTS 6.5 overall).
- Basic cell culture techniques, including Western Blotting, Immunofluorescence assay, and Clonogenic assay.
- Microbubbles fabrication (Lysozyme microbubbles).
- Proficient in medical ultrasound technologies.
- Image J.